

Anabaptist Climate Collaborative Communications Internship

The Communications Internship is a part-time (10 hours/week) internship over the school year for students with an interest in Climate Communications and Writing or Video media development. Students will engage in media research, online communications, article writing and developing newsletters and reports for Anabaptist Climate Collaborative (ACC) and its website. The Communications Internship is a remote position, with 10 hours per week expected. A summer internship would be an alternative.

| | |
|--------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Position Title: | Communications Intern |
| Compensation: | Monthly stipend of $500 |
| Location: | Remote |
| Term Length: | Approx. 8 months |
| Qualifications: | Preference to a student studying Communications, Environmental Studies, Sustainability, Writing, or a similar program. Good communication skills, shared values with the Anabaptist-Mennonite faith and community, and a passion for climate issues all required. Experience working with social media and website design is a plus. |
| Responsibilities: | Social Media Development - 30% The intern will assist in expanding ACC's presence on social media networks, including networking, profile creation and regular posting. Content Development - 40% The intern will create regular content based on their skill set, which ACC can use in advertising or promotion. Possible tasks include writing articles, editing newsletters and reports, creating resources, taking promotional pictures, or creating videos. Campaign Creation - 30% The intern will be in charge of creating and working on one larger campaign throughout their internship, which will be promoted through ACC's social media, website, and partners. The intern will be tasked with developing materials and media for this summer's MCUSA convention. Other potential projects include a carbon calculator, and collaborative resources with JoinTrees. |